“Ripe with ideas and color! A showcase of imagination and skill.”

– Better Homes and Gardens

Impressive and practical.

– Los Angeles Times

Talented landscape designer Jennifer Haley shares 32 ideas for turning ho-hum gardens into spectacular surroundings. Haley’s text vividly describes the plants, shrubs and trees suggested for each design. Her own gorgeous photographs illustrate before-and-after makeovers for front and rear gardens, from tiny plots to three-acre properties. There’s even a section for decorating city balconies. Settings are shown while blooming and dormant, so readers can see how each design looks throughout the seasons.

Jennifer Haley is a master landscape designer and photographer. Her clients include small businesses, corporations, and homeowners. Jennifer lives in Ojai, CA. with her husband, Clyde, two cats and four parakeets.
